DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1, 2, 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Spehar (U. S. PAT. 6,700,420).

In claim 1, Spehar teaches all claimed features in Fig. 2, a method for outputting a digital signal, the method comprising the steps of: supplying a driver stage (32) with a current via a positive (one of the input terminals for 32) and a negative current (the other input terminal for 32) supply connection; limiting the current to a current limit value (a predetermined value) via a positive and/or negative current supply connection; and temporarily increasing the current flowing (the energy of path 2 is used to aid in switching of path 1; col. 2, line 62) via an output (M) of the driver stage in synchronization with the edges of at least one trigger signal of the driver stage, wherein the increased current is provided via a capacitor (44) to increase the output current of the driver stage.

In claim 2, Spehar teaches the method of claim 1, further comprising a step of the driver stage supplying a differential output signal at two output lines (M, N) wherein at least one of the two output lines receives (M) the increase signal.

Claims 11 and 12 correspond to detailed circuitry already discussed similarly with regard to claims 1 and 2.

3. Claims 3-10 and 13-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 2, 11 and 12 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

The newly applied reference of Spehar anticipates the claimed limitations of claims 1, 2, 11 and 12, as discussed above.

The certified copy of foreign priority document has been scanned in and available for viewing.
